Reference	GF-2306 / restricted review package

Dear review team,

You have been granted temporary access to a restricted evidence package relating to the death of Grand Duke Émeric IV of Luxembourg-Vallée, discovered following the National Day fireworks period.

Initial access records show that a temporary Armundia badge appears in the door trail connected to a secondary side room near the official route. At this stage, the access trail identifies a badge object only. It does not establish who physically carried it.

Your task is to review the evidence package, reconstruct the movement window, compare alibis, and identify: (1) culprit, (2) motive, (3) method, and (4) decisive evidence.

Treat every document as partial. A single log, statement, call record or physical trace may be misleading unless supported by the wider timeline.

Please begin with the briefing and Chapter 1 material. Do not rely on public reporting alone.

Investigation note
The first question is not who was named by the system, but what the system can actually prove.
